

I completed my education in 2016 from Kitwe City College of Education (KCCE) as a Primary School teacher and holder of a diploma.

The challenges have undergone so far, the unemployment levels in my country are high, after completing I spent over a year without finding any employment in government and private sector. By God's grace I managed to get a job from Jorrads Private School. We started well but during the course of the year things changed. Getting paid became a challenge.

Nevertheless [I] have enjoyed my career with pupils, good times in class through interactions as well good time management. Challenges that pupils usually go through from my previous school and here are lack of learning materials (books, pens, pencils, etc), proper school uniforms are a challenge as well as shoes. Some of the pupils come from distant places, time to reach school is a challenge to them.

In a nutshell I can say, my career so far has been exciting and I look forward to experiencing more. My field is a really lovely one, I do love what I do and my desire is to be counted among the great and good teachers.

Yours sincerely teacher,

Mr. Jeremiah Kafweni
